County Grand Jury Recall Wednesday

The current Madison county grand jury is being recalled Wednesday to consider criminal cases accumulated since its initial report on Feb. 4, when 25 indictments and 14 not-rue bills were returned.

Chief Assistant State's Attorney Leon Scroggins of Granite City said about the same number of cases would be on the agenda for the recall session, including about 10 from the Quad-Cities. The grand jury is expected to take three days for the task.

Madison Lions Enroll Three New Members

Three new members were initiated into the Madison Lions Club during the group's weekly dinner meeting held at the Springfield Hotel, 10th and Iowa streets, Madison, Thursday evening. Thirty-six attended the business session, conducted by Walter Gavlick, president.

New members initiated were Harold T. Fisk, Donald Bridgick and Bob Rogers. Judge Austin Lewis presided over the initiation ceremony and briefly explained the obligations and purpose of Lions International. He discussed various services sponsored by the club and what is expected from Lions members. Planning continued for the club's annual "sausage and pancake breakfast" to be given Sunday, April 9, at the Madison memorial center, Seventh street and Lee avenue. The public is being invited to extend an invitation with breakfast to be served from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tickets are available from club members.

Traffic Expert Outlines Problems

Proposals to alleviate congested traffic conditions now existing in Granite City were discussed by the city's traffic engineer, George L. Crawford, who was the featured speaker at the Granite City Optimist Club's weekly luncheon meeting, at the Y.M.C.A. Thursday. The occasion also marked the presentation of a large movie screen by the local service organization to the Y.M.C.A.

Herman Mulder, program chairman, introduced Crawford who told club members that traffic conditions will not improve unless city officials will agree to follow the recommendations made by professional traffic consultants rather than the advice of individual aldermen. Crawford's opinion, he elaborated on some of the proposals, including the one-way street revision and no-parking zone.

Thirty attended the luncheon, including four guests, John Bernard, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., Arnette Patterson Co., who is chairman of the city's citizen Traffic Study Committee; Sidney Womack, A. P. Green Brick Co.; and Lt. William Condis, Granite City police department traffic officer.

Rev. James R. Craddock announced this week's guest speaker will be Rev. D. D. White of the United Christian Missionary Society, Indianapolis, Ind.

May 3 Trial Date In Stamps' Case

A new trial date—May 3—has been set for four convicts charged with murdering three Menard prison guards during a riot Nov. 23.

The date had been for April 4, but was changed at Springfield by Circuit Judge Creel Douglas to permit a psychiatric examination of John W. Stamps of Granite City, one of the ring-leaders in the riot.

State to Start Draft Health Rejection Plan

Each month in Illinois, about 2200 draftees—four out of 10—are rejected for physical reasons. About 30% have conditions that could have been corrected previously but were not, either because of the individual's lack of knowledge of available facilities, or lack of money.

The U. S. Public Health Service developed a plan to refer medical rejections on a voluntary and confidential basis to local public or private community facilities for comprehensive health services. Under this plan, the Illinois Department of Public Health entered into a contract with the U.S.P.H.S. to establish an Armed Forces Medical Rejection Program for the state.

County Board to Meet Apr. 20 to Reorganize

A special meeting of the Madison county board of supervisors is to be held at 11 a.m. April 20 at the courthouse at Edwardsville to reorganize the board.

Petitions directing Miss Eulalia Hotz, county clerk, to call the meeting were being signed by board members at her office in the courthouse.

Study of Transit Fares Ordered After Wage Boost

An engineering survey to study fare adjustments or other means of meeting increased operational costs will be ordered by Transit Services Corp., operators of the Bi-State Transit System, following approval by union and transit system officials of a new three-year contract for bus drivers and maintenance men that will cost about $500,000 per year.

The contract offer, which embodies a 36-cent wage boost, in five steps, over the period and includes other improvements in working conditions and employee benefits, was ratified by a vote of the union membership Thursday. The previous hourly rate for bus drivers was $2.00 per hour.

Commendation Medal To Lt. Paul DeGonia

First Lt. Paul C. DeGonia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. DeGonia of 2228 Delmar avenue, was awarded the Army Commendation Medal recently.

He was cited for meritorious service while serving as Chief of the Special Electrical Device Repair Branch at the Engineer School in Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

Awarding the medal, Col. William N. Harris, director of the Mechanical and Technical Equipment at the school, said that DeGonia's outstanding leadership, resourcefulness and devotion to duty combined with his professional competence contributed immeasurably to the department.

Schmitt to Be Co-Host At State C. of C. Meet

E. G. Schmitt, assistant vice president of Illinois Power Co., will be a co-host for the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce dinner to be held April 14 in Alton. The feature speaker will be State C. of C. President Barnham P. Spann, vice-president of Gardner-Denver Co. at Quincy.

Driver Faces Charge

A charge of reckless driving was placed against Thomas Armstrong, 20, St. Louis early Saturday after his westbound auto struck a parked car in the 800 block of Jackson street, Madison.

220 New Buses

"Despite these problems, it is appropriate to note some of the improvements for the riding public that have been made since Bi-State acquired and unified the 15 privately-owned transit companies in this area. This includes the purchase of 220 new streamlined, air-conditioned buses at a cost of $6,750,000, the establishing of eight new express lines and extensions of service on numerous other routes into areas not previously served."

"All of these improvements have been made with revenues produced by the farebox only. Unlike many other publicly owned transit systems, Bi-State has no taxing powers. However, in view of our increased costs of doing business, we are approaching the point where help from governmental agencies—federal, state and local—must be forthcoming to enable us to maintain and improve the level of transit service in this metropolitan area."

John C. Balne, president of Transit Services Corp., said that although "the effect of this settlement on our operations will be difficult to meet, it compares favorably with the contract settlements that have been made in our industry during the past several months."

DON ADAMS DEAN MABERY

was emphasized by Ducharme, who likened the conduct of a planning organization to a large corporation. He compared the operation of cities or areas to General Motors Corp., both of which, he said, started shortly after the Civil War. General Motors, on the one hand, has solved its problems of organizing a diversity of skills and problems and has established a complete set of goals—"which is to make better automobiles and more of them."

"But we see little of this in the way of organized planning in municipalities where independence of decision is still the foremost problem," Ducharme said. He noted that the Chicago area in which the Northwestern Illinois commission operates has 130 different political subdivisions, "all making their own separate decisions with no thinking on long-range programs of area-wide planning."

Ducharme commented that "General Motors built automobiles like some metropolitan areas do their planning; they would have been out of business a long time ago." He said that "the planning is concerned, he said, most areas 'are in deep trouble... they make mistakes no business could afford to make.'"

SWIMAPC Competent
He added that SWIMAPC is a competent organization dedicated to coordinated planning, and that if it is not used as a medium for that purpose, "you may get a planning organization out of Springfield that may not be what you would like."

Ducharme referred to zoning as one of the major items to be considered for overall planning. He described zoning as a tax generator or tax detractor in many of the current programs. In many instances, the fiscal zoning has reversed the trend for which it was intended and has created a discrimination against business, against industry or against classes of people. Zoning, he added, has kept the industry out of areas that were unable to maintain a reasonable level of public services because of its lack of taxes due to the absence of industrial or business assessments. In a like manner there have been instances where zoning was used to keep out apartment projects that would attract families with a large number of children, because of the effect it would have on the school load of the neighborhood.

Following Ducharme's address, Mikseil served as chairman of the summation meeting in which each seminar group presented its conclusions and recommendations. Mikseil said that the information submitted by the seminar groups would permit SWIMAPC to determine specific objectives and needs in the study report, and provide a basis for overall development that eventually will be formulated from data contained in the report.

Reports Submitted
Context of reports submitted by each seminar group:
Highways and Transportation—Chairman, Harry Kluge, Madison county highway superintendent, discussed five-year highway construction program of Illinois Highway department as presented in the seminar by Robert Kronst, district engineer of the Illinois Highway Department at French Village.

Recommendations planning of better control over right-of-way question, pointing out that current regulations often force relocation of highways to less desirable routes. Suggests possibility of revolving fund or setting aside of long-term fund for right-of-way acquisition.

His 'Sensationalism'
During the public image seminar discussion, May attributed this condition principally to "sensationalism" of the press which, he claimed, "is inclined to make every politician appear a dishonest person. The personal con-

Peace Lutheran Fund Dinner Raises 60% of $9000 Goal

Pledges for 60% of a $9000 goal to continue the financing of Peace Lutheran Church during a fund-raising dinner held at the congregation at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church.

During the unique program, Rev. Lawrence Mattingly, priest at the Catholic church, gave the invocation, and the dinner to the 80 members of the Lutheran church was served by the women of St. Elizabeth's church.

The guest speaker, Dr. Robert Marshall, president of the Illinois Synod of the Lutheran Church in Missouri, commented on the ties of different religious faiths for the fund program. He also noted that Peace Lutheran church pastor Carl Johnson is the host of a public relations effort accident on Thursday evening.

Another speaker was Mayor Partney, who stressed the need for participation in church programs by lay people. Miss Ila Lewis of Alton was vocalist, and Jack Solberger, chairman of the fund drive, also spoke briefly.

In his address, Dr. Marshall pointed out that devotion to service to churches and their members could never be paid with money to pastors and to individuals who serve as Sunday school teachers.

Peace Lutheran Church is located at 2450 Stratford lane.

economic cooperation" between government agencies through a competition for tax monies.

Retail Business Lost
8. Industry, Commerce, Labor and Employment. Chairman, William Hoelcher, manager of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities: report submitted by James McElroy, concludes that 30% to 35% of retail purchases from the Illinois area are made in St. Louis. Recommends program to keep business in home area. Points out that there now is one of the best records of employment ever known, but this is offset by one of the worst shortages of skilled help on record. Recommends a basic labor inventory to be conducted and into the training and retraining practices of the area. Report states Labor Relations never have been better than they are today, yet labor has a "bad public image."

9. Public Image, Aesthetics and Overall Development: Chairman, Alton May: concludes that area has an unfavorable public image and that apathy of the people toward municipal or area developments deters progress and will hold up results of overall planning until corrected. Recommends steps be found to encourage more public participation in improvements, and that the first step in this direction is facing up to the fact that such conditions exist.

Report Due Later
10. Urban Form: Chairman, John Rendleman, of SIU-SW Staff, no presentation of report made. To be submitted later to SWIMAPC.

11. Hospitals and Health Facilities: Chairman, Wenzel Harness of the St. Clair county board of supervisors: Planning for a medical school is an "absolute must." Seminar members concluded that shortage of physicians in over all area will become acute in near future. Stresses need for home care for chronically ill patients and suggests this might be achieved by using one of the tuberculosis sanatoriums that now are using about 80% of their facilities in each county.

Makes a suggestion that one of these sanatoriums be used for all patients; one be vacated for a chronically ill hospital. Recommends nursing home programs be included in all junior colleges to alleviate nurse shortage, and that possibility of combining emergency hospital service into a single unit, or several units, be studied to relieve high cost of maintaining emergency rooms in all area hospitals.

Also notes that there is a severe shortage of nursing homes for care of elderly; also notes that Medicare is here, and that while most persons "are not ready for Medicare," it apparently is here to stay.

Miss Charlotte Koelker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Koelker, 430 Lincoln avenue, Venice, and Victor Hamilton, son of Mrs. Margaret Hamilton of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, were married Saturday morning at St. Mark's Catholic Church in Venice.

The Rev. Robert McCarthy officiated at the 10 o'clock Nuptial Mass.
Mr. Koelker gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of imported handkerchief Chambray lace. The bodice, designed with a sabrina neckline and long pointed sleeves, was embroidered with pearls and sequins and the skirt swept into a chapel train. An orange blossom crown held in place a veil of illusion, and the bride carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and ivy centered with a white orchid. Bouquet of white gladioli and pom poms decorated the altar, and a program of wedding music was furnished by Roderick Baudier, organist, and Mrs. Lois Boyd, vocalist.

Mrs. Virginia Williamson, a cousin of the bride, was matron of honor; and a sister, Miss Joan Koelker, Miss Vickie LeBrun, Miss Jeanette Gontman, Miss Sharon Frawley and Miss Gloria Ponce, served as bridesmaids. They wore gowns with bodices of gold lace over yellow taffeta and skirts of yellow chiffon over matching taffeta. Made on empire lines, they had gold detachable floor-length trains, and in their hair, they wore headpieces

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES MACMILLAN, who were married Saturday evening at Third Baptist Church, The bride is the former Karen Lynn Simonoff, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Eads, 3128 Willow avenue.

Miss Karen Lynn Simonoff Is Bride of Chas. MacMillan

Arrangements of white gladioli and pom poms, together with branched candelabra, palms, ferns and a white aisle cloth provided the setting Saturday evening for the wedding at Third Baptist Church of Miss Karen Lynn Simonoff, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Eads, 3128 Willow avenue, and Charles MacMillan, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. A. MacMillan, 2840 State street.

Aisle standards entwined with white satin ribbon holding lighted candles added further illumination to the scene.

The Rev. Eugene Phillips officiated at 7:30 o'clock. During the double-service, the bride and groom knelt on a satin and gold prie-dieu.

Mrs. Jerry Lorenz, organist, accompanied the soloist, Harry Lloyd as he sang "One Hand, One Heart," and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of white peau de soie styled with a scoop neck and an empire waist. The A-line skirt was accented with a cascading front panel of hand-clipped Chantilly lace intermingled with tiny clusters of seed pearls. The sleeves were pointed at the wrists, and a flat fabric bow at the back topped the full court train gathered under the bow to form a wide aisle sweep.

The entire train was encircled with a band of lace. A forward headdress of pearls forming delicate loops mingled with crystal tear drops held in place a shoulder-length tiered, bouffant veil of imported illusion. The bride carried an off-aside cascade arrangement of gardenias, stephanotis and variegated ivy with white satin loops and love knots.

Attendants for the bride were Miss Paula Hays, maid of honor, and Miss Carol Schmitt, Miss Carol Friedrich and Miss Susan Vespi, bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns with bodies of cocoa velvet, scoop necks and elbow sleeves. The controlled skirts were of gold crepe, the empire waists outlined with gold lace medallions continuing to the back where tied velvet bows extended to floor-length streamers.

Flat velvet bows in the cocoa also were carried by the bridesmaids. Miss Kathryn Griffin and Paul Nance, bridesmaids, wore white and all four held arrangements of bronze pom poms.

Kathy Griffin and Paul Nance, bridesmaids, wore white and all four held arrangements of bronze pom poms. The former wore a dress of gold velvet with a round neck and short sleeves and a circle of bronze pom poms in her hair. She carried a gold basket with pom poms of bronze and white.

Joseph Fanning, another cousin of the bride, was best man; and Richard Bledsoe, Terry Turner, Michael MacMillan, the bridegroom's brother, George Walz and Robert Yates made up the list of groomsmen and ushers.

The bride's mother chose a pale blue three-piece suit with matching hat and accessories. Mrs. MacMillan, the bridegroom's mother, selected a yellow and white costume, a yellow and white hat and black patent accessories. Both wore corsages of yellow roses.

A reception was held in the church basement after the ceremony. Miss Cindy Eads, a sister of the bride, and Mrs. Joseph Fanning, a cousin, were in charge of the guest book.

Calling All Home Makers

By AARON FREDMAN
HOW CAN YOU JUDGE FURNITURE VALUES?

Generally speaking, furniture is a blind article. This means that it is really impossible for the average person to judge the quality of furniture just by looking at it.

So what is the best thing for Mr. and Mrs. Furniture Buyer to do? The only answer is to shop with a reliable merchant. Years ago, automobile salesmen would tell their prospects all about the wheel, base, gear ratio and other technical aspects of cars until they realized that the public goes for the established reputation of the manufacturer and the dealer. The same goes for television and radio set. And the same thing is true in the furniture line.

Your reputable furniture dealer or decorator will never handle inferior merchandise just in order to meet or beat competition. If you have confidence in your dealer you must also have confidence in the fact that he brings you the best values that are obtainable, and he does this for very selfish reason: his customers. These customers he wants to both sell and keep him in business and he knows that if he fools them he is fooling himself.

You may be sure that the materials in our furniture, and the construction of the furniture—those "unseen" factors—are of high quality at our store.

So, remember, when shopping, our decorating and sales staff here at Fredman Bros. Furniture Co., 1214 North Main, is always ready to serve you. We're open Monday, Thursday and Friday night until 8:30 p.m., other nights until 8:00 p.m.

Frala Quits to Take Mizzou Job

Bob Frala, for seven years head football coach at Belleville, has become the seventh area prep coach to resign his post since December. He will be the freshman football coach at the University of Missouri.

Unlike his six predecessors, Frala is transferring his duties elsewhere. He joined the Belleville coaching staff in 1959 and posted an impressive record of 31-17-3, including four Southwestern Conference championships.

He will join the Missouri staff beginning July 15 of this year.

Frala joins Dupe's Bon Brubaker, Pat Price of Edwardsville and Vergil Fletcher of Collinsville in resigning as a head prep football coach. Other coaches resigning from their duties in area schools were Edwardsville's Dick Hutton, Jack Ashbury and Dick Ford. In each of these cases, they will retain their other duties.

Hitting, Pitching Good As GC Wins 3, Ties 1

Granite City's Warriors got their first strong taste of varsity baseball competition over the weekend, and the taste was a sweet one.

The Warriors won three games and tied one. Friday night at Triad they tied 7-7 when the game was called on account of darkness. Saturday at Wilson Park, the Warriors downed Mascoutah 6-2 and then won a twin-bill at Freeburg, 6-0 and 11-5.

The quartet of games sets Granite City's season record at 3-1 with one cancellation.

Triad exploded for six runs in the bottom half of the third inning to take a 7-0 lead over the Warriors Friday night. But a four-run fourth inning and two more tallies in the fifth brought the Warriors within one run.

Catcher Fred Hoffman opened the top of the seventh by striking out, but Triad pitchers walked Jerry McKeehan and Bill Cox. Coach Joe Fedora called for a double steal, and the Warriors had runners on second and third with one out.

Denny Henson walked to fill the bases, and McKeehan scored the tying run on a wild pitch. Harold Vick then drew a base on balls to again fill the bases, but the Warriors closed the inning with a pop fly and strikeout. The game was then called.

Four RBIs for Henson Denny Henson drove in four runs in the Triad contest with two hits in three times at the plate, including an important fourth-inning double.

In the Mascoutah contest at Wilson Park, Dennis Pugh walked six consecutive Granite City batters and thereby gave Granite City came back and earned two more tallies in the bottom half of the third when Ron Crabbe and Greg Wozniak drew bases on balls and Harold Vick singled them in after a wild pitch had advanced the pair to second and third.

The Warriors added one run in the fifth as Jim Hackney drove in Rick Turpenoff on a single. Turpenoff had singled and taken second base on a fielder's choice. Strong bunts and stings pitching were credited to the Warriors as they took a doubleheader from Freeburg.

In the first game, catcher Hoffman led off with a single, second-sacker Larry Ripka followed with another single and Bill Cox was safe on a fielder's choice. Hoffman then scored on a wild pitch.

Cox Triples The sixth frame saw McKeehan walk, Bill Cox connect for a triple and Charles Collins single. In the first game at Freeburg, the Warriors allotted only one base on balls and gave up only three hits—one off Bill O'Neill and two off Mike Shambo.

The second game saw the Warriors score three runs in the top of the first. Henson singled and went to second on an infield out. Hoffman drove home with a single, Ripka singled and then Cox tripped, driving in Hoffman and Ripka.

Six Run Inning Granite City displayed hitting power and baseball know-how to score six more runs in the second inning. Jim Rains led off with a walk, Tony Gregus was safe on a fielder's choice and stole second base. Collins tripped, Greg Patton singled, Hoffman singled and Ripka was safe on an error.

With the bases loaded, Cox got an RBI on a fielder's choice. Rains, batting for his second time in the inning, doubled for a pair of runs.

The Warriors scored another two runs in the sixth. Rains was hit by a pitch, Henson tripped him home and Collins singled. "We are very happy with our hitting. We got five triples and two doubles at Freeburg, and our pitching was better than we thought," Fedora said in looking at the scoreboard.

The Granite City baseball coach cited Denny Henson as doing a fine job at the plate, with five hits in 10 trips, including six runs batted in. He also collected a double and triple in the action over the weekend.

Face Wood River The Warriors will face the Oilers at Wood River tomorrow night in a single Southwestern Conference contest. "I don't know who we'll start as a pitcher, we'll have to wait and see tonight how the bids react after the weekend," Fedora commented.

The Oilers have nine returning lettermen, and will be paced by an all-right-handed pitching staff. Wood River split a doubleheader with Bethalto over the weekend, winning the opener 3-0 and losing the second game, 5-3.

Y Valleyball Team Posts 91st Win Saturday The YMCA men's volleyball team extended its winning ways Saturday afternoon with five victories over a Stott Air Force Base squad.

The local team, which has a five-year record of 91 wins and five losses, won on scores of 15-5, 15-8, 15-6, 15-3 and 15-1 over the armies.

Members of the local team are Dr. E. Walton, Bill Turrell, Milton Reinhardt, Ron Feads and Glen Wolfe.

Bills' Coach Talks at VHS Cage Banquet

Buddy Bremmer, St. Louis University basketball coach, addressed 60 people at the annual Venice high school basketball banquet at Augustine's in Belleville Thursday night.

He spoke on the "Goodness of boys, and what it takes to be an All-American kid."

Bremmer outlined four points in his talk. He said, "To be an All-American kid, it takes a good attitude, a sound body, healthy mind and being a smart competitor."

He pointed out that a smart competitor is one "who knows when to make right moves, and knows when mistakes are most costly."

He added that a smart competitor must have a good attitude towards the sport he is playing.

Dr. John E. Lee, mayor of Venice, told the Red Devil boys' basketball squad and coaches that they were "a credit to the town of Venice, a credit to the youth of Venice, and a credit to themselves in attaining the district basketball tournament championship."

Co-captain and all ball-handling Rich Essington was awarded the annual free throw trophy for his 69% mark on charity shots.

Venice coach Bill Hohlendorf said letters for basketball will not be awarded until the annual recognition day on the last day of school this spring.

The '66 Mercurys are the quietest outboards you can buy

Shove the throttle wide open and listen to the quietest sound in outboarding—the silent new Mercurys for '66. You can sit beside the motor and carry on a conversation in a normal tone of voice!

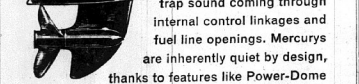

And this year all the new Mercs are quiet—from the powerful new 110-hp six-in-line down to the trim 3.9 Mercurys.

Mercury's unique silencing system includes an aluminum frame that isolates engine sound and vibration; neoprene rubber seals that trap sound coming through internal control linkages and fuel line openings. Mercurys are inherently quiet by design, thanks to features like Power-Dome combustion chambers, Jet-Prop exhaust, Dyna-Float suspension, internal reed valves and offset wrist pins. See the quiet ones—the '66 Mercurys—at your Mercury dealer. 3.9, 6, 9.8, 20, 35, 50, 65, 95 and 110 hp.

Big Red '66 Outlook Given By Meggysey

Big Red linebucker Dave Meggysey spoke of last season and looked to the upcoming professional football season as he addressed more than 170 people at the Granite City YMCA awards ceremony Friday night.

The evening was climaxed by Meggysey's talk. It was preceded by presentation of the awards to winning basketball teams in the YMCA program, which included 450 boys in 60 teams participating in the Mitchell, Granite City and Madison areas.

Meggysey told the youthful audience that "it's not the size of the dog in the fight, but the size of the fight in the dog." He pointed out that Pat Fischer and Billy Gambrell, both 165-pounders for the Big Red, "were worth their weight in gold to the Cardinals."

Highlights of the 1965 season were reviewed on film, with commentary supplied by Meggysey, and a forecast for the 1966 season was made. Meggysey said the outlook is good with the return of veteran signal-caller Charlie Johnson. Johnson suffered a shoulder separation and was sidelined for much of 1965, Meggysey noted.

His 1966 forecast was followed by a question and answer period.

Tickets are still available for the "last word in Madison basketball" for the year.

The game, between the Madison faculty and the Collinsville Jay-Hoks, is slated to be played Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Madison gymnasium.

The game is sponsored by the Madison high senior class, and all proceeds will go toward that class' gift to the school.

The Madison faculty team will be anchored by football coach Glen Pickering, while Bobby Page and Dick Brown are expected to aid the Trojan cause.

Collinsville coach Vergil Fletcher and his former star pupil Bogie Redmon will pace the Jay-Hok squad. Also on the visitors' team will be Venice coach Bill

1965-66 Basketball Season — Revisited

By Mike Gremaud
Press-Record Sports Editor

Many exciting things happened in Quad-City basketball this year but, then again, many exciting things failed to happen along the way.

On one hand, there was the Cinderella team of Granite City which nearly, but not quite, shocked many foes in the Southwestern Conference.

There was the Madison team and its race for power, and there was the best Venice squad in five years under coach Bill Ohlendorf.

But, rather than dwell on what did occur, look at what might have been.

Number one, the Essington family of Venice did not move to Granite City, Collinsville, Highland or Litchfield as rumor had it. Without Rich Essington, the Venice team would have been in real trouble.

Number two, the Lusk family of Madison did not move to Venice during the semester break, as he had been rumored. The family included two outstanding players, Paul and Gary. Paul missed 14 games—four of them Madison losses—but later returned. The Trojans "jelled" and defeated Belleville, No. 3 team in the state.

Number three, Madison coach Earl McClanahan did not take a coaching job at Belleville. Contrary to outside opinion (Collinsville and Cahokia areas) he is happy where he is for the present.

Fourth, referee Jim Simas did not call six "hokla home games" as believed. He only officiated five on the Comanches' home court and an unofficial court of three on the road. Such totals are regarded as unfair during a season.

Fifth, recruiting of seniors did not create a state championship. It seldom does, as Highland found out. Despite Dean Burk and Tom Campbell, joining the squad from smaller, nearby schools to team up with Craig Manwaring, Highland captured only fourth place in the Midwestern Conference.

Sixth, and perhaps most remarkable, not once did a Quad-City spectator get thrown out of a gymnasium for balking at the officiating. A few were reprimanded or talked back to, but none ousted.

What was the most exciting thing that did happen? All three Quad-City teams produced winning seasons.

Brian Lamew, a member of this year's Granite City wrestling squad, lifted a total of 555 pounds to win first place in the 148-pound class of the Quark AAU weightlifting championships in St. Louis Sunday.

The Granite City Republican Women's Club received a silver honor roll award Friday in Champaign at the Illinois Federation of Republican Women's Club annual spring conference. The award represented the local group's achievements during the past year in the state championship, contributions, overall programming and general activities.

Presentation of the silver citation was made to Mrs. Vernice Wortman of Granite City, president of the Madison County Federation of Republican Women's Clubs and a delegate to the conference. Ten other Madison county women were among the hundreds of participants at the two-day affair.

A charge of careless driving was placed against Jesse White, 2203 Market street, Madison, about 1 a.m. Sunday after his southbound auto crashed into the left rear of a parked auto in the 2200 block of Missouri avenue.

The parked car belonged to George Stuart, 2213 Missouri avenue.

MEETING HALL for the Odd Fellows Lodge at 20th and Grand avenue to be razed for a parking lot for Western Auto Supply. Lyle Tatum, proprietor of Western, also has purchased the house next to the lodge hall (formerly a Lutheran Church).

Another Old Landmark To Give Way To Parking Lot

Another of Granite City's old landmarks will give way to modern progress—a parking lot—with razing of the old Lutheran Church at 20th street and Grand avenue. The building is 66 years old.

Lyle Tatum, operator of Western Auto Supply at 2001 Grand avenue for the past 16 years, said he plans to tear down the building next month to build a parking lot. Size of the lot will depend, he said, on whether other merchants in the immediate area wish to join in a plan for a large lot that would serve all of them.

Tatum said he has bought the old Lutheran church building which has been headquarters of the Odd Fellows lodge for at least 25 years. In addition, Tatum has bought the two-story brick residence at 2004 Grand avenue.

Railroads Trying to Kill County's Appeal on Taxes

Filed last week with the U. S. Supreme Court by 12 railroads, the fighting taxes was a rejoinder to an appeal of a case by Madison county.

The railroads ask a ruling against or dismissal of Madison county's appeal. Either action the railroads ask would give them $2 million in county tax refunds.

Burton C. Bernard, lawyer handling the case for the county, filed an appeal with the high court earlier this month after a decision by the Illinois Supreme Court ruled in favor of the railroads.

The railroads had taken the case to the Illinois court following a ruling handed down in the circuit court at Edwardsville in favor of the county, and the Illinois high court reversed the circuit court decision.

The county contends in the appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court that the reversal creates a tax preference for the railroads in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution.

With the latest action by the railroads, the county has to file a response to the railroads' claim in which they have asked for a ruling to affirm their claim or for a dismissal of the case.

Village Preparing

housing in the subdivision, pending further study of inadequate drainage conditions.

Questions on the subject were asked by several residents after Robert Barton, also a contractor in the village area, requested board action on a building permit. Barton informed the trustees "I've been told every day for two weeks, maybe tomorrow when I've inquired about the permits." According to Building Inspector Hudgins, Barton originally requested two permits, one for construction of a multiple family dwelling within the village limits, the second outside, but in the same area where sewer drainage difficulties are increasing.

Hudgins added that he had hoped William Schooley, village attorney, would be present at the meeting to give an opinion on the legality of withholding permits in the non-zoned residential area. Schooley was not present. No official action was taken by the board on Barton's request. However, he was asked to submit specifications and plans for the proposed housing units.

Citizens' Complaint

Residents of Lakeview Estates questioned exactly what had been agreed at the last session, regarding duplex dwellings, pointing out to the trustees that one of the duplexes on Eastgate drive is now occupied by two families. John Tanner Sr., a Lakeview Estates resident, said the second family had moved into the residence since the February board meeting.

At this point confusion arose with Hudgins telling the complainants that the dwelling in question had been sanctioned two months earlier. He added, "without any subdivision restrictions you can't tell a contractor he can't rent his property if the board has already approved it."

Members of the audience pointed out that Mouser had agreed to allow only one-family occupancy in each duplex, pending sewer improvements. Hudgins said that four multiple dwellings had been approved by the board before the protests at the last meeting.

Two new ordinances were adopted by the village board despite opposition by Robert Springer, a trustee, whose attendance at monthly meetings was noted by officials and the audience as, infrequent. A check of the village records showed Springer has been absent at five monthly meetings within a 15 month period.

20 MPH Speed Limit

Trustees approved an ordinance setting a speed limit of 20 miles-per-hour in the Lakeview Estates area in answer to complaints—citing frequency of construction vehicles traveling through the area, many of them carrying children playing in the streets.

Springer protested the new ordinance, saying "why should that particular area have a 20 mph speed limit when other streets in the village are regulated at 25 mph and they have plenty of children playing on them." The board also agreed to place "watch our children" signs on the subdivision streets on a request by Chester E. Dean.

Springer's second protest came over passage of Ordinance 47 which prohibits firing of BB guns and air rifles within the village area. The ordinance provides for a $10 fine for the first offense and a $20 fine for the second offense. Opposing the law, Springer said, "I think the village police have better things to do than attempt to enforce this type of ordinance. I don't want anyone coming into my yard stopping my boy shooting his gun at a target."

He also raised the question of who granted permission for benefit turkey shoots to be held in the village, when a present ordinance prohibits the discharge of firearms in the community.

Complaints of Vandalism

Trustee Otto Kreher told Springer that he has had numerous calls about windows being broken and other acts of vandalism committed with BB guns. Kreher was supported by other members of the volunteer police force who received similar complaints. Charles Taylor, a member of the audience, reported his child had been accidentally shot with a BB gun last summer.

In other business, Village Clerk Edison Phelps read a letter, announcing a public hearing for 10 a.m. today at the county courthouse on the Ponton Beach petition to annex an estimated 700 acres. The annexation bid is expected to meet objections from Granite City, as the proposed area includes the site of the new junior high school on Ponton road. There was no discussion.

The board also accepted an out-of-building restrictions pertaining to Bruno subdivision, located off Highway 111, south of the lake area.

A report from Miss Eulalia Hotz, county clerk, listed the Ponton Beach village 1965 assessed valuation at $1,570,685, with no tax levy. Phelps also noted receipt of $374 as the village's share of motor fuel tax and $71 reimbursement from the Illinois Department of Revenue on sales taxes.

Sewer Advisory Board

Village residents whose names were submitted for inclusion on the proposed sewer advisory board, include Floyd Ashoff, Gerald Warren, Harold McBride, Alma Paschlag, Chester Dean, Clyde Bradshaw, Charles Taylor, John Tanner Sr., August Schalk, Herbert Polley, William Ren, Dr. Rochester and Hudgins.

Following the meeting, Staicoft told a Press-Record reporter that he intended to appoint all those named to the sewer committee. He added that he will present the names to the board in a formal resolution at the April session.

Staicoft also said that representatives of the state engineer's office had offered to come into the area and explain to residents the vital need for installing proper sewer and drainage lines. He added also that four continued cases of infectious hepatitis in the village area may possibly have resulted from inadequate sewers.

Trustee Richard Jones, Street committee chairman, said he saw no need for a street light at a curving section on south drive, as requested by a resident last June. Jones explained a nursery business at the curve had two large overhead lights outside the building. However, a resident of

The area informed the board the lights were not kept on every evening and Jones changed his recommendation. The board voted to install the new light. He reported that new street lights are ready to be installed at Fountainbleau and Westgate drives and at the entrance to Lakeview Estates and Highway 111.

The 108th Madison county teachers annual institute will be held Friday at Webster Junior high school, Collinsville, and Alton senior high school, with more than 2800 teachers expected to attend. Classes will be dismissed for the day.

The Collinsville location has been designated for Quad-City public and parochial school teachers.

The program will open at 9:05 a.m. with the "Star Spangled Banner" and the pledge of allegiance, followed by an invocation by Rev. Dean Dixon of Highland and a skit, "Recess," by the Little Theater of Alton.

A speaking program will begin at 9:30 a.m. with addresses to be delivered by Dr. Leo G. Bent, dean of the college of education at Bradley University, on "If We Don't"; Dr. W. Lee Martin, former Olympic star and a professor at Indiana University, on "Backyard Diplomacy"; Dr. Bergen Evans, English professor at Northwestern University, on "The Language We Speak"; and Philip B. Gilliam, judge of the juvenile court at Denver, Colo., on "What's Wrong with People."

In conjunction with the institute, the Madison County Band & Orchestra Directors Association will convene at Highland high school at 9 a.m.

Band rehearsals will begin at 9 a.m., and a concert by the all-county junior high, band and all-county elementary band will be presented at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

The guest conductor will be Prof. Charles L. Emmmons, director of bands and orchestra at the University of Missouri.

Parallel sessions will be held during the day following registration and a brief opening meeting in the new SIU Communications building.

The two groups will join for a luncheon in University Center where Judge Monroe is scheduled to speak on "The Law Explosion and What We Can Do About It."

During sessions for those with news interests, Jackson County State's Attorney Richard Richman will speak on "Relationship between the Courts and Press," followed by a talk on "Privacy and the Press," by Capt. Shorter Agenda Faces GC Council Tonight

A shorter agenda faces Granite City aldermen for this evening's 8 o'clock session, but several major items are pending—hiring a consulting engineer and a decision on a project to be set forth in a second application for federal sewer construction funds.

Action on hiring a consulting engineer was deferred last week when the Personnel and Street committees jointly recommended the local firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab. Other firms considered were Research Planning & Design, a St. Louis firm with a local engineer on its staff, and also the city's present motor fuel tax engineer, and M. B. Corlew & Associates of Edwardsville.

Junior Achievement Teaching Free Enterprise to 300 Here

Quad-City Students Operate Own Business Firms, Learn by Doing

Since September 1965, 17 new corporations have been formed and are now operating in the Quad-Cities.

These are the companies of teenagers learning fascinating intricacies of the free enterprise system through the Junior Achievement program.

Junior Achievement locally is now in its 11th year of operation as part of a national program begun with industry support 47 years ago to help teach the free world's economic facts of life.

More than 3500 youths of the Quad-City area — boys and girls — have benefited from the program. Over 300 currently are members of what JA describes this way:

Nationwide Program

"Junior Achievement is a nationwide educational organization which offers young people of high school age the opportunity to gain valuable and practical pre-business experience by organizing and operating their own small-scale businesses with the guidance of volunteer advisors from business and industry."

Each year 40 local businessmen volunteer to guide the Achievers in the 17 companies through the maze of forming and operating a business.

The Achievers are "recruited" from the sophomore, junior and senior classes of the Granite City, Madison and Venice high schools. Through the cooperation of the principals of these schools, the young people hear the story of Junior Achievement and get an opportunity to apply for membership.

During September and October, hundreds of teenagers converge on the JA building at 3307 Wabash avenue and take the first step to becoming young businessmen and women.

Company Charter

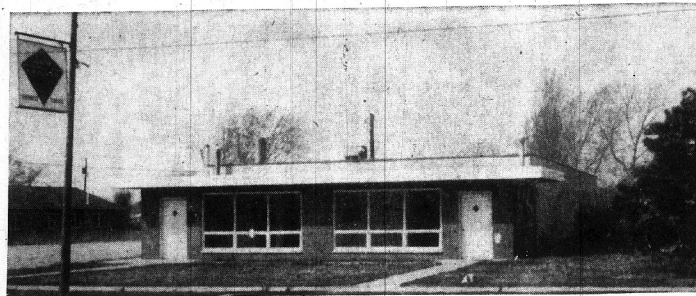

Each company applies for and receives a charter, giving it the right to begin operations. More important, the right to capitalize the company. This is done by selling common stock at $1 a share to people who want to invest in a new concern, run with the exuberance of youth, operating on a strict profit-and-loss basis.

After selection of the product or service, raw materials are purchased and production begins. The manufacturing is done in the business center on hand and power equipment.

As in any business, production results in inventory; when the shelves get stocked, sales must be made.

Compete in Open Market

Achievers sell these products in open market competition, asking only that the buying decision be made on quality of merchandise.

HOME OF JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT in the Quad-Cities is the JA business center, 3307 Wabash avenue, Granite City. It contains four workshops, each occupied by a different JA company, every night from

In the meantime, officers are elected. The president is responsible for the overall company planning and operation; the vice-president of sales handles the sales program; the vice-president of manufacturing sees that production runs smoothly; the treasurer handles the financial records; the secretary is responsible for important company papers.

To round out this management team, the president appoints a personnel director and a safety director.

Board of Directors

As in any business venture, problems arise and decisions must be made. To facilitate handling of these items, the president presides over a monthly board of directors meeting.

At this meeting, each officer reports on the progress of his department and gives every board member an opportunity to voice his opinion.

After a 30-week operation, there will be a planned liquidation

Monday through Thursday. A 17th local student business firm meets Thursday afternoons at First Granite City National Bank. of the 17 companies, payment to the stockholders and a greater understanding of our business system.

Key Role by Marshall

The late John N. Marshall of Granite City Steel Co. was primarily instrumental in extending the program to the Quad-Cities along with James MacDonald of General Steel Industries and George B. Schierberg of Granite City Steel. MacDonald was Mississippi Valley president in 1959-60.

For the first four years the JA center was situated at 207 Grand avenue. Its next address, for four years, was 2002 Madison avenue.

It is now in its third year at 3307 Wabash avenue. Gene

Queen Usually a Local Girl

While the principal aim of Junior Achievement is to offer teenagers the opportunity to gain valuable and practical pre-business experience by organizing and operating their own small-scale businesses, there is a moment of glamor each year.

This is the annual Junior Achievement Coronation Ball and crowning of Miss Junior Achievement.

The Ball highlights a year of hard work by the thousands of teenagers enrolled in Junior Achievement of the Mississippi Valley Area.

This ball is usually held in January or February, and is attended by 1200 to 1400 Achievers.

This year, on Feb. 4, Sharon Koch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koch, 1609 Pontoon road, Granite City, was crowned "Miss Junior Achievement of 1967" by Granite City high school and is a member of the General Products company counsel by General Steel Industries.

She was chosen as a nominee for the honor by other members of the 17 JA companies in operation at the local center. Each achiever firm was represented in an election.

Eight maids of honor from other JA centers in the region, who also were candidates for queen, attended Miss Koch.

MISS SHARON KOCH

Eberhardt (1964).

The queen is a senior at Granite City high school and is a member of the General Products company counsel by General Steel Industries.

She was chosen as a nominee for the honor by other members of the 17 JA companies in operation at the local center. Each achiever firm was represented in an election.

Eight maids of honor from other JA centers in the region, who also were candidates for queen, attended Miss Koch.

JA Scholarships Aid Local Students

College scholarships are an important element of the Junior Achievement program.

Dale Schindewolf was the first Granite City business center Achiever to win a JA scholarship, in 1957-58.

Emil Brominski and Jim Jeffries were recipients in 1958-59. Paul Brown and Henry Bieniecki in 1959-60. Bernadette Acquaviva and George Haven in 1961-62.

Ruth Hoffman in 1962-63 and Randall Field in 1963-64.

Some of the awards were in cash, and others were for attendance at such institutions as Westminster College and Webster College.

Has such assistance helped? From Member to Advisor

Yes, in the opinion of Schindewolf, the initial winner. He is one of the local Achievers who has since returned to the program as an adult advisor.

In his second year as a Granite

City Steel Co. JA counselor, he currently is serving as coordinator advisor for all four GC Steel firms, DIXIE ROD STEEL, JUNIOR CHEMISTS, SAFCO, and JA COOLS.

An Air Force veteran, the Granite City high school graduate is expeditor in the yard maintenance department at Granite City Steel.

The scholarship helped him attend the University of Illinois at Champaign. And the JA experience "has given me a better understanding of how a manufacturing enterprise must operate," he told the Press-Record.

Viewing the JA program not only as a former member but as an industrial employee Schindewolf describes it as effective in providing "good overall knowledge of business." The image that it imparts of manufacturing problems and satisfactions, he has concluded, is accurate.

$500,000 Capital Fund Campaign

This week, letters will be sent to prospective contributors to a half-million-dollar capital fund drive for Junior Achievement of the Mississippi Valley, which includes the Quad-Cities.

Drive chairman William A. Mann, regional vice-president of the General Electric Co., and JA directors and advisory board members will participate.

The campaign is intended to raise funds to build and equip new JA business centers, to purchase an existing center, to retire the mortgages on three other centers, among them the Granite City center at 3307 Wabash avenue.

Although the 211 JA companies in this region serve 6000 teenage members, another 11,000 high school students are deprived of the opportunity of joining each year due to the lack of additional facilities.

Every JA company is made aware of the effect that taxes have on the profit picture.

After struggling for 20 weeks to produce and sell a product or a service at a profit, as in real business, the day of reckoning comes and it is time to complete a company profits tax form.

Not only do they complete the form, but they pay a percentage of their profit.

The rate is 22% of all profit plus a surtax of 20% of everything over $25.

Payment is made to Junior Achievement and the money is distributed to deserving Achievers through a scholarship fund.

This fund has helped a number of young men and women complete their college career.

Do these payments mean anything to the JA company? Yes, very quickly they see that "taxes" are an integral part of our economy.

JA Units 'Taxed' for Scholarships

These words sometimes are enough to make one's blood run cold. They have the same effect on Junior Achievement companies.

Mississippi Valley JA Has 22-Year History, Operates Nine Centers

As American as apple pie, baseball and the "hot dog," a dedicated volunteer institution in our midst is training teenagers by the thousands in the free enterprise system of doing business.

It is Junior Achievement of Mississippi Valley, Inc., now in the 22nd year of its operation.

More than 60,000 youths of this metropolitan area have gone through the program. More than 5000 are currently enrolled.

Hundreds of volunteer advisors, drawn from 70 cooperating firms, annually take training, preparing to guide the 5000-plus "Achievers" recruited from 70 schools in operating 211 JA companies in a year-long "grass roots" approach to business.

Open Market Competition
Junior Achievement firms are chartered with a common stock setup, operating on a strict profit-and-loss basis, producing and selling goods and services in open market competition with the area's spring firms.

This perming there will be liquidation of the companies, a gala banquet and distribution of coveted area and national awards, including many scholarships.

Philosophy of the movement is that training, not profit or loss, counts most. As a matter of fact, however, the ratio of success and failure sharply parallels the performance in the adult business world.

Board, Advisory Council
Backbone of the movement is the dedicated support of the area's business community, and its broad scope is evidenced strikingly by the personnel comprising the officers, board of directors and advisory council of Junior Achievement of Mississippi Valley, Inc.

Officers of this uniquely American Institution for the Mississippi Valley area include R. R. Shockley of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., president, Hermann F. Spoehrer of Sporian Valve Co., board chairman, and Nicholas P. Vetter, chairman and president of Granite City Steel Co., a JA vice-president.

Mississippi Valley board members include W. Ashley Gray Jr., president of General Steel Industries, C. E. Townsend, editor and publisher of the Granite City Press-Record, and Vetter.

Among members of the advisory council are S. E. Pershall sr., board chairman of Tri-City Grocery Co., and Charles P. Whitehead, board chairman of General Steel Industries.

National JA Official
Vetter is a member of the National JA executive committee. Headquarters of the regional program are at 1520 South Florissant road, Florissant, Mo., also the location of the Northwest JA center.

Others of the nine business centers besides Granite City and Northwest are situated in Alton, East St. Louis, St. Ann, Southside St. Louis, Northside St. Louis, the Big Bend center in Webster Groves and the Southwest center in Concord Village.

Interested Teenagers Key to JA Success

Behind every successful organization or program, there are vital elements necessary to make it operate.

This holds true for the Junior Achievement program: there would be no program at all were it not for the Achievers themselves.

To operate a program of this nature, there have to be individuals who wish to participate.

Where do they come from? How are they made aware that there is such a program?

How are they able to have the opportunity of learning about our free enterprise system?

LAWRENCE MCCAULEY

Pertinent information as to how JA operates and what may be learned is revealed at this ever present: the opportunity is not always so great.

A President at Work

The young man stood before the group and called the meeting to order.

After listening to and approving minutes from the previous meeting, he called for reports from his subcommittee officers pertaining to their respective divisions of accounting, production and sales.

After all reports were given, the group sat and listened intently as the young man addressed them. He spoke of possibly better methods of production in order to increase and improve productivity.

He said he felt that although there were enough products rolling off the assembly line and being turned over to sales for distribution, the financial report should have shown greater income from sales.

He further commented that if the company wished to continue to operate in the black, a greater sales effort would be required.

He then called on the vice-president of sales to outline a sales campaign he had prepared. The group agreed that the campaign was feasible and that the goal could be attained.

Further general discussion followed and several other resolutions were passed. There being no further business to discuss, the meeting was adjourned.

No—not really. This was just being turned over to sales for distribution, the financial report should have shown greater income from sales.

Local Principals
Local principals are Lawrence McCauley of Granite City high school, Francis Dant of Madison and Lewis Sablin of Venice.

Because of his school's enrollment, McCauley has been able to aid JA in its contacts with most of the students served at the local center.

Cooperation received from school administrators has been excellent, and without this kind of help recruiting would be difficult.

This year over 900 students from Quad-City area high schools applied for the Junior Achievement program.

However, because of the limited space of the Business Center, which houses 16 of the 17 companies, only 300 actually participated, pointing up the need for expansion.

The thirst for knowledge is ever present: the opportunity is not always so great.

W. ASHLEY GRAY

NICHOLAS P. VEEDER

C. E. TOWNSEND

Viewpoints of Local Members of JA Board

W. Ashley Gray Jr., president of General Steel Industries:

"We at GSI believe just as strongly in Junior Achievement as we did 11 years ago when General Steel played a key part in bringing the program to the Granite City area."

"The competitive free enterprise system, vital to the conduct of our nation's business, is essential to the entire way of American life."

"We are proud to be a part of a movement which shows young people how business operates and helps them conduct their own small businesses to gain first-hand knowledge in a learn-by-doing experience."

Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman of the board and president, Granite City Steel Co.

"Although the national Junior Achievement movement did not exist when I was a boy, I had the benefit of a similar experience."

"I owned a small two-man printing company and, as a result, had to learn how to keep books, buy raw materials, figure operating costs, and attempt to make a profit. This experience lasted three years and was certainly of some help to me later on."

"The purpose of Junior Achievement is to educate teenagers in the ways of the modern economic world by giving them an opportunity to take part in miniature business ventures."

"Junior Achievement in the Quad-Cities has had many accomplishments in the eleven years since the opening of our Achievement Center. Our record in both the Mississippi Valley area and the nation has been outstanding."

C. E. Townsend, editor and publisher of the Press-Record:

"Like other worthwhile youth programs, such as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, etc., Junior Achievement not only promotes development of the individual youngster but also helps him acquire important social, economic and educational attributes that benefit society as a whole."

"Since its inception 11 years ago, upwards of 3500 local high school students have shared in the experience of 'running their own businesses.' They know now what makes the American free enterprise system 'tick'; they know because they have actually established, operated and dissolved miniature business firms, and have coped with all the problems implicit in this process."

"As long as present and future generations understand—and appreciate—the basic principles that have made this nation great, that have given all who seek it unlimited opportunities and the highest standard of living in the world for themselves and their families, just that long will the nation continue to be the greatest or the face of the earth."

Achievers Like Program

Junior Achievement, just like from Christmas candles," she the business world, is "co-educational."

Among the girls active at the Granite City JA business center is Nancy Hanks, a high school sophomore who resides on Stratford lane, Nemolet township. In her first year with TEEN CO, sponsored by Dow Chemical Co., she already has advanced from safety director to vice-president of sales.

"I like it," she comments. "Not only the good jobs, like painting our patio lights, but the other work, like preparing the wood base. We take turns on the different jobs."

"It's a lot of fun. We've learned a lot. And we're now getting our finances into the 'black' after switching our production

How JA Company Chooses Product

In selecting a product to manufacture, three main questions must be discussed and answered:

1. Can the achievers make the product and make it look professional?
2. Can the product be sold after it is made?
3. Is it profitable to make the product?

Each company has a research and development committee, composed of five achievers, responsible for investigating a proposed product and recommending acceptance, improvements, supplementary products or a completely new product to the other members of their company.

First Payday for Achievers Is a Big Thrill

The successful Junior Achiever experiences many thrills, such as helping to produce an outstanding product, learning the value of cheerful, cooperative effort, convincing his prospective customers that they should purchase one or more of his company's candles, necktie holders, bird feeders, etc., and seeing his organization make a reasonable profit.

It is doubtful, however, if there is any greater thrill for the new participant than receiving the cash for his first month's wages, salary or commissions.

Officers of the company receive a fixed monthly salary, while the other members are paid on an hourly basis. In addition, all Achievers who make product sales, are paid a commission for each item sold.

All salaries and wage and commission rate are voted upon by the board of directors.

Records of attendance and sales are carefully recorded by the personnel director and vice-president of sales, respectively, to insure that each member is properly paid for his services.

At the close of the month, records are verified, salaries, wages and commissions are calculated and the Junior Achievement bank is given a copy of the completed payroll; with a check to cover the total.

Prior to the next week's meeting, the bank verifies that individual amounts and total payroll are in agreement and prepares a payroll envelope for each Achiever, enclosing the proper amount of cash. These are given to the treasurer for distribution.

Earnings Vary

Those who have attended all meetings and worked hard at selling their products receive substantial pay envelopes.

Others, who have missed meetings and have not elected to put forth as much sales effort, receive less, but each is paid for his contribution and performance.

This is the American way.

Contract Awarded for National Food Supermarket Bldg.

A contract has been awarded to M. H. Wolfe & Co. for construction of a new supermarket building in the 3000 block of Madison avenue to be occupied by National Food Stores next fall.

The building is to be constructed by Granite City Trust & Savings Bank as trustee for Harold, Ernest and Robert Karandjeff. Estimated cost of the new building, which will be one of the largest in the area, was not revealed.

Harold Karandjeff said the new building will contain 20,000 square feet with dimensions of 175 by 115 feet. Construction will be brick on three sides with a three-foot overhanging canopy on two sides and a larger canopy on the front.

The building will be located on land formerly occupied by Barney's Drive-In restaurant and grill and the Nameoki Boat and Motor Sales and Service across from the Granite City high school.

Karandjeff said that after the building is completed it will be leased to National Food Stores. The supermarket, among other modern features, will contain a complete drug store, including prescription department, under the same roof.

The present work schedule calls for groundbreaking about May and completion in time for opening the first week in September, Karandjeff said.

Medical Staff Gives Lamp Pins to Nurses

Special recognition was given nurses at St. Elizabeth Hospital by the hospital's medical staff and a local firm in last week's observance of Illinois Nurses' Week.

During a ceremony Thursday with 83 nurses in attendance, each received a miniature gold lamp of knowledge symbolic of the nursing profession, may be worn with a chain attached to the nurse's school nursing pin.

In addition, each nurse was presented with a two-color automatic pen through the courtesy of Madison County Federal Savings & Loan Association for use in recording patient records.

Sister Mary Thomas, hospital administrator, said the observance is to be held annually.

'Knee-Action' Writing Machine Goes to County Museum

A "writing machine" that has two key boards, one for capitals and one for regular letters, and is older than the famed "Oliver" used in the late 19th and early 20th centuries, is being donated to the Madison County Historical Society by Delbert G. Lampher of 2502 East 28th street.

A forerunner of the modern typewriter, the "writing machine" has no springs, and operates on a unique vertical-lever, typing action. The typist pushes down on the desired key which shoves the letter up through a square slot in the center of a carousel type key container and the key hits the paper. The action compares to that of a piano.

Another feature of the machine, is that the typist is unable to see the line being typed.

Lampher, who bought the machine for 25 cents at an auction in Troy five years ago, spent two months refurbishing it.

Prior to the auction, the machine had been in the basement of a home in Troy. "There is a story that the machine was last used by a Troy newspaper, but the previous owner didn't recall where he got it," Lampher said.

The machine was donated to the Madison County Historical Society, said this type of machine first appeared in 1865. The "writing machine" will be on display beginning this week at the county museum in Edwardsville.

UNIQUE WRITING MACHINE being tested by Mrs. Austin Lewis, president of the Madison County Historical Society. It was given to the county museum by Delbert Lampher and is reported to be nearly a century old.

Reclaims Throw Rug

Judy Harlow, 2707 Harvey Arcy, 2434 Edwards street, and place, reclaimed a throw rug at the police station at 5:45 p.m. Thursday which was recovered a month ago with other loot when Lawrence Wayne Getteman, 19, 20th and State streets as Mitchell was driving out of the First of Madison City National Bank parking lot.

Urges Taxpayers Check Over Returns

Internal Revenue agents suggested today that with the rapidly approaching April 15 deadline for filing 1965 income tax returns, taxpayers should give careful thought to their returns before mailing them. A good idea, the IRS urged, is to complete the return, then lay it aside for a day and then look it over again.

Springfield District Director of Internal Revenue Jay G. Philpott, said that Illinois taxpayers following this advice often find omitted income or deductions and errors in arithmetic.

Upon reviewing a return, a taxpayer may also find that he did not print his name and address, left out his Social Security number, or listed it incorrectly, omitted copies of Form W-2, or forgot to sign the return, Philpott said.

A careful review by the taxpayer before mailing may prevent delays in processing the return and speed up any refund due. The percentage of correctly prepared federal tax returns has increased sharply in the past few years, but numerous mistakes still are made, the director added.

IRS agents will be at the city hall in Granite City next Monday and Monday, April 11, to aid taxpayers.
